

SW377 – Law Student Pursuing Banking Career

Current law student at Georgia State University College of Law seeking a part-time or internship opportunity. Candidate is pursuing a career in banking and structuring legal coursework to tackle not only the legal and regulatory issues of banking but also to address operational needs. Recently completed a Summer Law Clerkship with the FDIC and received the STAR Award for Legal Research. In this role, candidate developed expertise in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act as well as other banking and securities regulations. Previously, candidate was a Civil Investigator for the Georgia Department of Law in the Consumer Protection Division. Most notably, candidate was the lead investigator for the state of Georgia concerning the Equifax data breach investigation, which recently settled for nearly $700 million dollars.