Forbes has once again partnered with Statista, the leading market research company, to conduct an independent survey among thousands of tax and accounting professionals and their clients in the United States. Survey participants who worked for a tax or accounting firm named up to ten tax firms and ten accounting firms that they would recommend if their company were not able to take on a client. Clients were also asked to name up to ten firms each in tax and accounting that they would recommend based on their professional experience during the last three years. Out of the 4,400 total recommendations, Saltmarsh was among the 177 companies to receive recommendations for both tax and accounting services, which supports our core values and commitment to quality service.
